He is faithful.

Rest in his love for you...

HE SEES YOU. HE HEARS YOU.

HEART CHECK.

The question

Are you holding tight or letting go?

It is a lot easier for us to hold on and grip tight the situations in life rather than letting God take the reigns. It feels more secure to create list(s) of what we think is best for us and our loved ones--- to take charge of our situations that involve love, healing and other *life complexities.

Today lets ask some questions that can help bring to light some of the things we might be holding on to a little too tightly, and search our hearts in order to bring us closer in relationship to God.

What are you holding on to today that is causing frustration and doubt to enter your relationship with God?

HEART CHECK.

Things to Ponder.

What Are You Bringing into Your Prayer Closet?

Are we going into the prayer closet just to ask for powerful gifts so that we can be acknowledged as extremely gifted within the minds of man? Are we searching our hearts and minds for any fleshly agendas before sitting at the feet of Jesus? This is not to say we cannot seek God in the gifts he has given us or ask him to help us search our hearts, but it is extremely important that our prayer closets are not filled with the "all about me" mindset. If we find ourselves going before him with this mindset, it is vital for us to pray for a deeper desire to know him, and to ask for a heart posture that moves us towards humility, faithfulness and love. Doing this will move our hearts to a place where it is about building a deeper relationship with him and not with the world.

A contract with God.

Are you seeking to be in the presence of God because you want to be there, or are you going to the prayer closet with an agenda? If you find that you need to change your heart posture and deepen your desire to know him, read the contract below, and sign it. *Its just between you and God.

Lord Jesus I give you all and surrender all. I ask that you would work in my life and correct my heart posture towards you. I pray that you will put a deep desire in my heart to understand and know you more. Help me know how to love you and let go of my own ways. Help me serve you well. In Jesus Name I pray. Amen.

DIRECTION.

Faith and Endurance.

Choosing faithfulness.

Spending time with Jesus daily through worship, prayer and reading his word, will bring you closer to him---And becoming closer to him, produces good fruit. Fruit that will change your life and the lives of those around you. Fruit that moves mountains physically and spiritually.

Let's step towards faithfulness together.

But the fruit of the spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control...
